Cal Poly Trombone Choir To Play Christmas Concert Downtown Dec. 4

SAN LUIS OBISPO -- Christmas is coming early to downtown San Luis Obispo, thanks to the Cal Poly Trombone Choir, which will play a free holiday concert of more than 20 Christmas songs during Farmers' Market on Dec. 4.

The 21-member choir, directed by Music Department faculty member Roy Main, will perform a Christmas Concert from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the corner of Higuera and Chorro streets.

The choir is made up of Cal Poly students from a variety of majors.

In addition to directing the Trombone Choir, Main also teaches trombone, euphonium and tuba at Cal Poly. He has also directed the Cal Poly Brass Choir. He has performed with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, Inglewood Symphony and Brentwood Symphony. He has also performed professionally for moviestudios, television and record companies, jazz-dance bands, and chamber and musical theater groups in the Los Angeles area.

The holiday concert is sponsored by the Cal Poly Music Department and College of Liberal Arts. For more information, call the Music Department at 756-2406.
